

Washington State Parks and Recreation Commission's Folk and Traditional Arts in the Parks Program presents

AN EVENING OF FISHER POETRY AND SONG

Fisher poets participating include:

Jon Broderick of Cannon Beach

Dave Densmore of Astoria

Geno Leech of Chinook

Jay Speakman of Gearhart

Fisheries historian, singer, and songwriter Hobe Kytr, of Astoria, will serve as master of ceremonies.

Southwest Washington and Northwest Oregon commercial fishers share their original poetry and songs about life and work on the Columbia River and North Pacific fishing grounds.

Sat. Dec. 11, 7:30 to 10 p.m.

Theater at Fort Columbia
State Park (U.S. Highway 101, Chinook,

WA, about 3 miles from the Astoria-Megler Bridge)

$3 admission (Parking fee is waived)

For more information, please call (360)902-8526

A project of the Washington State Parks and Recreation Commission's Folk and Traditional Arts in the Parks Program, with funding from the Washington State Parks and Recreation Commission's Southwest Region Office, the Washington State Arts Commission and the National Endowment for the Arts. Additional support received from the Fisher Poets Gathering, the Sanctuary Restaurant, the Long Beach Peninsula Visitors Bureau and the Long Beach Peninsula Bed and Breakfast Association.

